

A New Order Coming: A New Thing, A New People

What I am about to do no man has ever seen. I am doing a new thing in the earth. I am coming soon. When I come, I will come with a host at My side. Before I come, I will have prepared for Me a people who will be all that I have ever wanted in My people before. Never before has the earth seen this people and never again will they see them for I shall do a new and glorious thing in and through them.

They shall be a mighty army, disciplined soldiers, marching in perfect cadence with My Spirit. What they hear Me say, they will say. What they see Me doing, they will do. For I will show them the great and glorious things that I do. I will do it through them for I have prepared them to be for Me a mighty weapon in My hand. Obedience is the key to their power and glory. They have overcome the world and resisted the power of sin to the point of shedding blood. They have conquered the flesh and laid down their lives for My sake.

I have hidden them in Me and prepared them by My Spirit. I have revealed My secret counsels to them. They know Me and My ways. They feel what I feel.

The world has never seen them before. The world will stand in awe of them. The earth will quake at their coming. Behold, they are coming forth today. You will begin to see them manifested everywhere. They have a power, a strength, a determination that cannot be stopped. They will storm the gates of hell. They will tear down strongholds, uproot barriers, make low places high and high places low. The crooked shall be made straight. What they say will be My word spoken through them.

The devils quake at their coming. They tremble and run. Neither have they seen such from the beginning until now. Neither has it entered their minds. They shall meet their destruction. The anointing will be powerful upon them. No man will be able to stand in their presence. They are faithful and true.

This is the new thing I am doing. I am manifesting Myself in a renowned people who are called only by My name, who have renounced the harlot and purified their hearts, who have laid down their lives for the sake of the gospel.

Come, My people, come. Hear My voice and believe. Listen to My prophets. They burn with My word in their hearts. They prophesy what I am about to do. You are called. Yes, I have called you, but few are chosen. Few are willing to pay the price. Who will go for Me? Who will pay the price? Who will lay down their lives for Me to live a life of total obedience? Who will dare to do all that I say do? Who will face ridicule and persecution and disregard man whose opinions are worthless? Who will go for Me?

Obedience is the only rule in this new order. The old has passed away. Behold, the new comes. The old glory fades, voices diminish, singing ceases, and there thunders across the horizon a mighty army, going forth in the name of the Lord, shouting glory to the King of kings, chariots of fire and horses aflame also from the swift speed of their coming, burning away the chaff as they come, hoofbeats, thundering hoofbeats coming from the mountain of the Lord.

Listen, My people. Do not turn a deaf ear to the sound of My coming. It is noisy to those who have ears to hear. Humble yourselves. Seek My face. Be done with petty things. Look for My coming. Look! I am coming! I am coming! I am coming soon. Business is not as usual. Churching is not as usual. It is old order passing away. Do not cling to it. Let it go. Ministry is not as you have known it before. Nothing shall remain the same.

Stay awake. Be alert. Keep oil in your lamp. Take extra oil with you. I shall come in the midnight hour. I shall come unexpectedly. I shall come as a thief in the night. I have told you beforehand, therefore, be prepared.

Listen to My prophets. They have My word. They will prepare you for My coming with the words they speak. Listen to them and heed them.

Remember, obedience is the key. I do all things through an obedient people. It will be hard for many of you to lay aside the old, the familiar. Make room for the new. It is the only thing that will bear fruit and produce life.
