

Coming After the Prepared Few

I am the Lord your God. I am coming. I am coming soon. And who do men say I'm coming after? They say I'm coming after the church. But what do they mean when they say "the church"? They mean the body of believers everywhere who are looking for My coming. But who are they who are looking for My coming? They are those who love Me and desire to obey Me, to walk in My statutes--who diligently seek Me day and night--who hunger and thirst after Me. This is who they say I'm coming after, says the Lord of hosts.

This is who I say I'm coming after: I am coming after a holy people, a holy and righteous people, a people of renown, a people who have made themselves ready, a blood-bought body who have eyes for Me and for Me only, who have died to the lusts of the flesh, who are fully alive to My Spirit.

I am coming after a people who are called by My name, not in name only, but who are joined to Me, married to Me, betrothed, devoted, faithful and true, who have no other gods or loves before Me.

I am coming after the few, the remnant, though they be many, yet they are few. I am coming for an obedient people. And how do I measure obedience? I measure it by the heart. It's what's in the heart that I look at. I know what's in the hearts of men. I know the secrets tucked away for the private pleasures of the flesh. I know them and I see them, and I measure a man's holiness by what I see in his heart.

Where there is yielding; where there is brokenness, repentance, and humility; where there is meekness and gentleness; where there are these things, there I am in Him. But where there is pride and arrogance; where there is stiff-neckedness, stubbornness and rebellion, there is the heart of their father, the devil.

I am coming for Me. I am coming for My Bride. I and My Bride are one. "Whom God has joined together, let no man put asunder" . . . "and they two shall become one." So, when I come for My Bride, I am coming for Myself. "For no man hates his own body." You are My body. Here, I speak mysteries; nevertheless, I speak plainly.

I am not coming for those who say they are Mine, yet bear the image of Satan, of sin, and the world. I am coming for those who can look within their own hearts and see Me, for I am found within them. It's what's in the heart that matters.

I come, and I come quickly. There will be no time for last-minute preparation. Now is the time to prepare. I am coming for a prepared people. Many are looking for My coming, many want to be raptured at my coming. Many say they love Me and want to serve Me. Yet, I am best served by their willingness to be sanctified, purified, and made ready.

I will not delay My coming. I will come soon and I will come quickly. Tell the people to be ready, to be watchful--to be prepared.
